

FAST WORK DONE ON REPAIR OF STREETS EARLY IN THE YEAR

Ninety Days Allotted for the Completion of Twelve Miles of Street Improvement

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND OF OUTSIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Second Crew to be Put on With Arrival of Material

Work on the city's comprehensive street improvement program as authorized by the common council at the last meeting is going ahead at full speed with a number of the streets designated for improvement already repaired.

In spite of the fact that the city is going to let contracts for the remainder of the work, fifteen car loads of asphalt and one hundred cars of gravel have been ordered, which is expected to be sufficient material to keep two crews busy during the summer.

Enormous preparations are being made for the street improvement program and it was announced by the mayor that the work will be pushed to use up the material as quickly as it arrives. At the present time there is but one crew working on the improvement. However, with the arrival of additional material it was announced that sufficient men will be employed in order that the program may be rounded out within ninety days.

Advertise for Bids

The council has advertised for bids for the improvement of approximately twelve miles of street in the city. The contracts will be let at the June meeting of the council which will be held Friday night, June 10. With contractors taking over a majority of the work within a short time, it is expected that the greater part of the work may be completed by the end of the summer, it was said.

The crew at the present time is working on South Twelfth street and while unfavorable weather conditions have upped the construction during the past week, it was announced by Mayor Bentley that under favorable circumstances 5,000 yards of work can be completed in a single day.

Bids Under Estimate

Mayor Bentley announced Saturday that several bids under the city engineer's estimate have been received for the proposed $75,000 sewer construction program to be started within a short time. The contract for this work will be let at the next meeting of the council.

An idea of the amount of work and construction to be carried out in the city this year may be learned from a statement of the mayor Saturday morning: "The city is busy with a program of public improvement, including street construction, sewer and water pipe extensions which total, with the $10,000 appropriation of the county, about $200,000. It is hoped that all of this work, the financing of which has been authorized by the council, may be completed this year."

Quick Justice Meted Out To Polish Looters

KATTOWITZ, Silesia.—By The Associated Press.—Drastic steps have been taken by leaders of Polish insurgents to prevent plundering. Firing squads are busy every morning and six men have been executed at one time. In spite of the severe discipline, the Poles continue rioting and are reported to have robbed food convoys.

A young German captured Friday was beaten to death by the Poles.

The food situation in the industrial district near here is serious. There is no fresh meat and babies are dying because of lack of milk.

The number of Poles has noticeably increased during the last ten days. They are well armed and have planted machine guns along the roads.

The Poles assert they will not fire on the British as they do not intend to fight the allies, but declare they will not surrender their guns unless the Germans disarm first.

AUTOMOBILES WILL PROVIDE OWN FUEL SAYS YOUNG EDISON

BOSTON, Mass.—A prediction that automobiles within a few years would carry individual stills to produce fuel for their operation was made Friday night by Thomas A. Edison, Jr.

Discussing carburetion at the graduation exercises of the Knights of Columbus automobile school, the son of the inventor said he had himself been seeking a substitute for gasoline for ten years. The problem would be solved, he said, by the manufacture of individual distilleries to be attached to cars, the stills to be operated by the heat and motion of the motor, and to produce from petroleum and other ingredients a combustible mixture supplied as constantly as current is generated by electric cars while in motion.

A car of average power, in his opinion, could be equipped to produce sufficient fuel to run itself and enough by-products to pay for its maintenance.

ACQUIT GERMAN WHO SANK BRITISH HOSPITAL SHIP

LEIPSIC.—By The Associated Press.—The formal acquittal of Lieutenant Carl Neumann, charged with sinking the hospital ship Dover Castle while he was in command of a German submarine during the war, was announced Saturday. When the case of Neumann came up on May 31, the proceedings were stayed, a preliminary examination having resulted in the establishment of Neumann's complete innocence, according to the German authorities.

Neumann in his testimony admitted he sunk the Dover Castle in clear weather, but said he was acting under the instruction from the German government as the vessel was not keeping to the special channel designated by Germany.

Neumann was declared acquitted on the ground that he had to obey the orders of his superiors.

WORK ON PART OF NEW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL HELD UP

Because of the refusal of the telephone company to remove wires from poles in front of a residence which is being moved from 1452 Aron street, building is at the present time on site of the Junior high school, construction on the school building is temporarily being held up.

Officials of the telephone company declare that a deposit covering the cost of removal of the wires must be made by Lewis Loken, who has the contract for moving the building, before they will consent to remove the wires.

It was announced that construction is held up on the north half of the Junior high school because of the house being moved on the school building site.

WITHDRAWAL OF JAPANESE FORCES FROM ISLE OF YAP ORDERED ANNOUNCES TOKIO

TOKIO.—(By the Associated Press.)—The naval ministry, it is announced, has ordered the withdrawal of the garrison in the islands of the South Pacific, including the Island of Yap, leaving their protection, including the wireless installation in Yap, to the police force attached to the civil administration. Several destroyers will remain in the waters as guardships.

It was recently reported that a Japanese suggestion to settle the Yap controversy with the United States would be made on the basis of giving the United States the Guam cable and evacuating Yap, except for administrative purposes. In the Japanese parliament recently the government has on several occasions declared its desire for a harmonious settlement of the controversy, all such statements having followed the action of Italy, Great Britain and France in endorsing the American position as to the disposition of Yap under the peace treaty.

PICK ILLINOIS TO WIN CONFERENCE MEET AT CHICAGO

Badger Team Expected to Present Stiff Competition to Illini Athletes

CHICAGO, Ill.—Two hundred and fifty athletes representing the ten conference schools and eight others Saturday gathered at Stagg field for the twenty-first western conference track and field meet with fair weather promising a fast track on which records might be broken, but cool lake breezes threatened to stiffen the muscles of the runners.

Illinois, through a list of entries which exceeded those of any other schools and by virtue of qualifying sixteen men in the elimination tryouts held in the field events and middle distance runs Friday, ranked as the favorite. Wisconsin and Michigan presented teams which promised keen competition for the Illini in at least some of the events however, and outside schools also had several seemingly sure point winners competing.

Indications that records might be set were found in the marks already made this season by the contestants. H. E. Hoffman of Michigan yesterday set a new conference record in the javelin throw of 178 feet 4 inches, beating his own mark of 172 feet 10 inches. Hoffman's throw will stand as the conference record unless beaten today for both elimination tryout and final marks are counted in computing the conference records.

The schools entered: Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Chicago, Northwestern, Purdue, Indiana, Minnesota, and Iowa of the Western conference. Outside schools were Missouri, Ames, Notre Dame, Michigan Aggies, Cincinnati, Ohio Wesleyan, Western State Normal, and Butler.

The meet was scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. Chicago daylight savings time.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS OVER THE WEEK-END

WASHINGTON.—Congress was not in session Saturday, both senate and house having adjourned Friday night. The senate later Friday passed the deficiency bill carrying a total of $156,000,000, an increase of $55,000,000 over the measure as passed by the house. Included in the bill was an appropriation of $75,000,000 for the shipping board which represented a net increase of $50,000,000 over the amount given the board by the house.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY AT THE NORMAL IS BIG HIT OF YEAR

Parts are Cleverly Interpreted by Students Who Appear in the Various Roles

The annual Senior class play given last Thursday night in the normal school auditorium by the members of the graduating class was one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever produced at the local school. The piece presented was "A Bachelor's Romance" by Martha Bartche.

The story of the play hinges around the trials and tribulations which beset David Holmes, middle aged bachelor who falls in love with his ward. Of course everything turns out all right in the last act. Ed. Scheble in the role of David Holmes proved himself to be an actor of ability. Sylvia Somers, David's ward, was the part taken by Frieda Buckhausen, who captivated the audience with her winning manners. Russell Rippe, as Gerald, David's brother made a hit with the audience, and Lewis Probert acted well the part of Harold Reynolds, the disappointed suitor of Sylvia. The disappointed suitor of Sylvia, the part of Martin Beggs, David's secretary, was taken by Robert. McCormick, who with the able assistance of George Miller as "Savage," a modern literary man, kept up the comedy situation. The maiden lady with a sharp tongue, was of a quality not generally seen in amateur productions. Mina Olson as Helen Le Grand, David's widowed sister also played her part in professional style, as did Anna Dech as Harriet Leicester, a society girl. Charles Knudsen was right at home in the part of Mr. Mulberry, a literary man who couldn't turn his talents into money. William Jennings, as James, made a perfect butler.

The play was produced under the direction of Miss Rosalie Lyza.

BABE RUTH TOO FAST FOR GOTHAM; AGAIN HELD FOR SPEEDING

NEW YORK.—Babe Ruth simply can't help being too fast for New York.

For the second time this season the hard hitting Yankee Saturday was summoned for speeding. The first time he was fined. Magistrates sitting in traffic court have been handing out jail sentences to second offenders.

The ball-player was charged this time with driving his car along Riverside drive at 35 miles an hour. He was directed to appear next Wednesday.

CREW OF STEAMER ATTACKED BY PARTY OF MASKED STRIKERS

OLD POINT COMFORT, Vt.—A party of masked men boarded the shipping board steamer Mitchell in Hampton Roads Saturday and attacked the crew, badly injuring eight and slightly injuring several others. A naval detachment answered the call for help but before the bluejackets arrived the attackers escaped. The masked men declared they were strikers bent on avenging themselves on the shipbreakers.

Nearly All Of Firms Back To Standard Time

OVER three hundred business firms have agreed to abandon the daylight saving schedule on Monday morning and go back to standard time, according to announcement made by committeemen who are today completing the circulation of petitions or agreements. Eight or ten manufacturers will continue to operate their plants under the daylight saving schedule, it was said at noon.

Just what the outcome of this situation will be will develop early next week. Whether these eight or ten firms will continue the daylight saving schedule or join the majority of firms and return to standard time cannot be announced at this time.

In the retail district practically every merchant signed the petition agreeing to return to standard time, it was said. A complete list of firms signing the agreement will be published in the Sunday morning paper.

STRIKERS AND MILL OWNERS MEET TO DISCUSS TERMS

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Although the committee of strikers was scheduled to meet with officials of the John Hoberg mill and the Green Bay Paper & Fibre company the meeting did not materialize and no meeting had been held up to noon today. It was learned that Frank Hoberg and John Welsh, presidents of the Hoberg and Green Bay Paper and Fibre company, respectively, were both out of the city. It is believed that a meeting of the strikers' committee and the mills officials would be held early next week, to discuss terms for settlement of the strike other than the 16 2-3 per cent wage reduction which affected the strikers.

The Northern Paper mill, which settled its strike Friday, started two paper machines Saturday, and it was said that several more would be in operation by Monday.

EX-RED GRADUATES FROM COLUMBIA AS AN HONOR STUDENT

NEW YORK.—Frank Tannenbaum, one time mob leader and radical agitator was graduated from Columbia university this year as an honor student and won the key of Phi Beta Kappa, an honorary scholastic fraternity, it was announced Saturday.

Tannenbaum, who served a year in jail for leading a mob against churches here in 1914 and scathingly denouncing all laws when he was convicted was declared to have discarded his radical views and now takes the attitude of a liberal in matters pertaining to economics and sociology.

He entered Columbia university in 1916 but when the war started he went to work in the shipyards and later became a sergeant at a Georgia training camp. Tannenbaum is 28, and married.

GIRL TRAMP IS HELD IN CONNECTION WITH MILWAUKEE THEFTS

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Armed with an automatic pistol and dressed as a boy, Sophie Drzinski, 19, was taken from a Chicago and Northwestern railroad train at Oconto and returned here Saturday for questioning concerning recent robberies.

The girl's companion, Gust Somich, 25, leaped from the train at Oconto and escaped, but was arrested at Iron Mountain, Mich., and will also be brought to Milwaukee, the police said.

The girl denied connection in any robbery. She told detectives her home is on a farm one mile from Marinette, Wis., and that she has been working in Milwaukee for several months.

TWELVE-FOOT SNAKE FOUND IN HOLD OF STEAMER AT HOBOKEN

NEW YORK.—Svengali, a 12-foot boa constrictor, sleepily dozed in a cage at the Bronx Park zoo Saturday apparently unimpressed by the fact that to him went the honor of being the largest snake ever caught in Hoboken.

Svengali was rudely disturbed from his slumbers on board the steamer Coppenhagen when shipwrights repairing the vessel tore out planks upon which he was reposing. The reptile was not down on the cargo list of the vessel but arrived as a stow-away.

The theory was advanced that he crawled aboard through a port-hole when a tree root upon which he was riding floated by the vessel docked at a tropical port.

WORST STORM IN STATE'S HISTORY SWEEPS EASTERN AND CENTRAL COLORADO

REMOVE BARRIERS AGAINST VACATION WORK FOR MINORS

Children Under Sixteen Permitted to Work Without Permit During Summer

SENATE APPROVES BILL FOR FREE VACCINATION

Guard Against Abuse of Compulsory Vaccination Order

MADISON, Wis.—Children under 16 years of age will be permitted to do vacation work without permit as a result of final concurrence of the senate in a bill of J. E. Johnson already passed by the assembly. The measure removes restrictions now placed around vacation work.

No change is made in the permit law with regard to children who do not regularly attend school throughout the year. Vacation jobs alone are removed from the regulation of the industrial commission under provision of the bill.

Final concurrence was also given in the public welfare committee bill calling for free vaccination of school children whenever an epidemic causes the board of health to order general inoculation. This proposal was introduced during the fight to abolish compulsory vaccination, to counteract the claim that the doctors would capitalize the disease to enlarge their practice.

Senator Smith told the senate that he would ask that it override the governor's veto of his bill regulating the stringing of telephone and telegraph wires. He proposed that the regulations be formulated by the railroad commission in conformity with the national safety code.

The Dahl bill strengthening the compulsory education laws of the state and providing for half time instruction in all high schools except those in rural communities, in order that industrial students might be taught, was sent to the public welfare committee for consideration in the senate. It went through the senate without objection.

CLOUDBURSTS SEND RIVERS ON RAMPAGE

Reports Tell of Heavy Loss of Life and Property Damage Running into Millions of Dollars

PUEBLO BUSINESS HOUSES UNDER 6 FEET OF WATER

Four Known Dead; Increase Predicted When Wire Communication is Restored

DENVER, Colo.—Col. Patrick Hamrock, in command of the Colorado state rangers, received a message from Pueblo Saturday morning urging him to send every available man to Pueblo to assist in rescue work. The telegram read:

"Conditions here very bad. Rescue work going on. Send every man you can. Hundreds in danger."

DENVER, Colo.—Eastern and central Colorado late on Friday was swept by a severe rainstorm and floods, characterized as the worst in the state's history and resulting in considerable loss of life and property damage running into the millions. The floods followed a terrific storm in the mountains accompanied by several cloudbursts which transformed rivers and other streams into raging torrents.

Continued heavy rains Saturday morning extended little encouragement to the flooded districts, most of which were cut off from wire communication.

Meager reports indicated a loss which will mount into the millions, with the heaviest loss at Pueblo, where a large part of the business section and several residential districts were inundated with water from the Arkansas river. One report from railroad sources at Pueblo said there had been "considerable loss of life and property" while a telegram to the Denver Times contained a statement that "hundreds of lives have been lost." The Times said it could not verify the report.

The known loss of life is four, with possibilities of an increase in the death toll when wire communication was restored.

Try to Reach Pueblo

From all over the stricken area which embraces all that part of the state lying east of the Rocky mountains, came reports of homes washed away, people by the hundreds fleeing to high lands, thousands of head of livestock drowned and millions of dollars damage done to crops and property.

Just before noon a special representative of the Associated Press left Denver by airplane in an attempt to reach Pueblo.

The Colorado State Rangers under command of Col. Hamrock, have taken charge in Pueblo to prevent looting and to establish temporary shelters for the hundreds of homeless people. The greatest suffering is reported from the Grove district in Pueblo, a section inhabited mostly by foreigners and steel mill workers.

Denver and Rio Grande train No. 3 turned over while standing still a few miles outside of Pueblo, according to a report to the railroad officers here. The accident was caused by the undermining of the road-bed by the flood. The cars went over slowly and the passengers are all believed to have escaped without severe injury.

Pueblo Hardest Hit

The situation early Saturday was: Pueblo, inundated and cut off from wire communication for hours. Private news dispatches placed loss about $4,000,000.

Marshall, a town of 200 inhabitants threatened by a break in the Marshall lake dam, a private irrigation project. Louisville, inundated, several houses, other buildings washed away.

Loveland, dikes of lake broken and parts of town and farms inundated; floods put out of commission electric power plant from which Fort Collins, Greeley, and other towns get their light and power.

A cloudburst at Swallow, fifteen miles west of Pueblo, sent the Arkansas river on a rampage. By eight o'clock it had overflowed into the town, inundated the business section and forced scores of families to flee from their homes; in the lowlands, eighteen families were rescued in boats. Damage to the postoffice was officially estimated at $600,000.

GREATER QUOTA OF SUNSHINE FOR EARTH PREDICTED BY LODGE

LONDON.—Recent solar eruptions which caused brilliant auroras and disorganized cable and telegraph service throughout the world may result in the earth receiving an increased quota of sunshine during the remainder of the year, says Sir Oliver Lodge, the noted scientist.

He declares it is probable that in consequence the Indian harvest will be improved. He even ventures the opinion that the electrified particles thrown off by the sun during the disturbance may assist in the development of vegetation and reduce the amount of rust held suspended in the atmosphere.

PROTEST GRAIN BILL

WASHINGTON.—Further objections to the Capper-Towner bill regulating grain exchanges were made Saturday before the senate agriculture committee by E. C. Van Dusen, president of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce. MORE RAIN WANTED

Maybe not, just today—But very soon.

RAIN and SUNSHINE Are Both Necessary

EVERY INTELLIGENT CITIZEN KNOWS THIS.

CLOUDS ALSO have their place in every life—whether he be a gardener of a gold-miner. We are in an imperfect, growing world ("evolution" the scientist calls it) where adversities, sickness and obstacles are bound to appear. Don't try to "fool yourself" by closing your eyes to this fact; like the ostrich that hides his head in the sand. Be open-minded in facing life as it really is. Then, look for the glorious possibilities yet to be.

SUBSTITUTE PLAN OF REAPPORTIONMENT OFFERED IN SENATE

Conant, Eliminated in Original Plan, Given Back His Seat

MADISON.—Substitute amendment to the reapportionment bill calling for changes in the senate and assembly districts to conform to population changes, was offered Saturday morning in the senate by the reapportionment committee. The new measure has unanimous approval of the committee on all provisions.

Senator John A. Conant, of Westfield, who would have been legislated out of office under the original plan of redistricting, is given back his district under the substitute. This change was made on petition of all senators and assemblymen from the districts involved and throws Wausau into the eighteenth district with Point du Lac and Green Lake counties, and Marquette and Adams in with Juneau and Monroe counties in the twenty-first district.

To bring about the changes in the senatorial reapportionment it has been necessary to place Marquette and Adams counties together in a single assembly district and Wausau and Green Lake into another single district.

Final agreement was reached on the redistricting of Milwaukee to satisfy all interests involved. Objections had originally been raised to the plan drawn by Senator Arnold, but in the final reapportionment, 13 of the districts were left as he had arranged them.

Changes in Milwaukee were made to bring more compact districts, it was said, and involved alterations in most of the senatorial district, while a new assemblyman was added in the third district.

WHO PAYS FOR ALL THE ADVERTISING?

Salesmen No Light Quick Buyers Without Chocolate Write a Letter

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

A good many salesmen for one business try to make the best of a bad situation about as follows:

"They say 'We don't advertise. We save that money and put the value into the goods.'"

The salesmen who sell advertised brands know how much water this argument will hold. But for news-paper readers generally, here is a little dialogue between, let us say, a cigar salesman and himself.

"Suppose we spent no money for advertising. Suppose by some miracle our volume of business continued to keep up in spite of no advertising? Suppose we spent the advertising money for more tobacco to go into the same cigars? How much more tobacco could we then put into each cigar?"

"A little that you wouldn't know it was there. Worse yet, the public wouldn't know the cigar was there."

Every dealer knows this: The best way to cut down expenses—the cost of rent, light, etc.—is to do more business.

We have learned the same lesson. The best way to cut down the cost of an individual cigar is to make a great many cigars.

And we have found that one strong help in selling a great many cigars is to advertise. We have found that advertising is a good way to build a big business and so give more value in the individual cigar.

Advertising is not the only expense in selling cigars. Salesmen cost money, too. Their time costs money. Now here is a nice question for somebody to answer: "Who pays for the time wasted by salesmen in trying to convince dealers that their cigars are better because they are not advertised?"

Did you ever see a smoker step up to a cigar case filled with unknown brands? Did you notice how long it takes to decide on one of the unknown brands in the case?

He wastes a lot of time. Who pays for this time wasted?

It doesn't take long to pick out a well-known cigar.

Slow buyers waste time and hold up business. Every retailer wants quick buyers. Advertised brands make quick-buying customers. Unknown brands make slow, hesitating buyers.

The unknown brands waste both the time of the smoker and the time of the retailer.

Who pays for this time waste?

We might just as well ask who pays for the retailer's rent?

If the dealer moved up to the fourth floor he would save rent. But could he sell his cigars cheaper?

No. Why? Because his volume of business would fall off.

It takes a large volume of business to permit moderate prices. Advertising helps to build a big volume. It helps to give cigar value at moderate prices.

Yes, of course, advertising costs money. So does the light in the dealer's shop. Suppose the dealer shut off his light at night? He would save light bills. Could he then sell his cigars cheaper?

No. Why? Because no one wants to buy cigars in the dark.

Nobody has to buy cigars in the dark. They can buy advertised and known brands.

When you hear of some cigar manufacturer who boasts that he doesn't advertise, try this: Write him a letter. Tell him you are a smoker. Tell him you are looking for a good cigar. Ask him if he can advise you why you should buy some particular brand. See how long it takes to get back a letter which consumed ten minutes of some executive's time, twenty minutes of some stenographer's time, a sheet of paper, an envelope and a postage stamp—all to sell one cigar.

Is that advertising—or isn't it?

Did you ever hear a smoker ask for a cigar without advertising? To begin with, there is no such thing as a cigar without advertising. The cigar is advertised by the salesman who talks it. It is advertised by the circular matter that goes through the mail. Maybe it is advertised in newspapers, magazines, bill boards and street cars as well. Every cigar is advertised. There is no such thing as a cigar without advertising.

So if there were any such thing as a smoker who wanted a cigar without advertising, he would have to specify without what kind of advertising.

This reminds us of a story.

A man stepped up to a soda fountain. He said: "Give me a soda."

The clerk said: "What flavor?"

The customer said: "Without flavor."

The clerk stepped away. Soon he came back and asked: "Without what flavor?" The customer said: "What are you trying to hand me? I just want a soda without flavor."

The clerk insisted: "Without what flavor?"

"Well," said the customer, "without chocolate."

The clerk went away again. Pretty soon he came back. He said: "I am sorry. We have no chocolate to

HUTTON SECURES CONTINUANCE OF CASE TO JUNE 10

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—R. P. Hutton, state superintendent of the Antislavery league, charged with violation of the corrupt practices act, gained his first legal victory Friday, when he had his case continued until June 10 over the objection of District Attorney W. C. Zabel.

It is expected that the next move by the defense will be to request a change of venue to Richland county on the ground that the state alleges that the circulars which are alleged to have attacked Judge Levi H. Bancroft, were issued from here.

Mr. Hutton was charged with violation of the corrupt practices act in distributing circulars containing statements alleged to be false in the contest for judge last April, in which Judge Bancroft was defeated.

TRAFFIC THROUGH SOO CANALS LESS THAN A YEAR AGO

Decrease of Two Million Tons Reported for May Over 1920

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—Freight traffic through the American and Canadian canals here during May amounted to 6,155,063 tons, a decrease, compared with May, 1920, of more than 2,000,000 tons. Many boats that carried coal to the upper lake ports were unable to find east-bound cargoes, and came down light, making the eastbound traffic unusually light for the month.

Movement of coal to the north compared favorably with previous records the shipments amounting to 2,220,000 tons, while oil shipments set a new record at 63,261 tons.

Eastbound grain shipments amounting to 25,039,062 bushels, of which 12,609,460 were wheat, represented about half of the normal May average, while the ore and lumber movement to the east also made a poor showing. Ore cargoes amounted to 2,047,832 tons and 15,562,000 feet of lumber were carried down.

Vessel passages numbered 1,515. Only 62 passenger vessels passed through the American canals while 1,275 passed through the Canadian lock, the Canadian passenger lines having been in operation for several weeks.

of endeavor. It ignores history and flies in the face of the theory of checks and balances. It proposes to move in the direction of autocracy at a moment when the whole world is discarding that principle. It would thrust these commissions back into politics by making them one-man dictatorships under the thumb of the appointing executive. It would rob them of permanency now established by the holding over of overlapping incumbencies, and would make impossible the stability which goes with continuing policies. It has blazed a backward and downward trail in a progressive state that has yet to make its first retreat.

And where does this committee get its information upon which to predicate this astounding reversal of political experience? Who has been heard? The heads of the departments? The people of Wisconsin who have had experience with the commissions? Our renowned political economists? It is common report that there have been no adequate hearings, advertised to the state, and to which interested parties might have access. The proceedings appear to have taken no stock of the thought that any information outside the intelligence of the members was needed. Men who have a right to be heard have not had their day in court. There has been scarcely an evidence of the learned research and quest after information which scholars employ in the solution of important problems.

The presentation of the matter on the floor of the house was devoid of personalities affecting commissioners, but insinuations calculated to inspire sentiment for "a change" have been whispered about and have gone across the state. There appear here indications of political intrigue, of job-seeking, and a penny-wise desire to pretend to the state an economical motive which, if it exists at all, is based upon fiction or a shoe-string. Some he-man should arise to plank what has been whispered flatly before the legislature, and to demand that those to whom these insinuations are imputed father them or admit their invalidity.

It would be good news that indications of a purpose of the assembly to pass this ill-conceived and undigested legislation had proved misleading, but should the signs hold good, the senate remains, and the state has a right to expect that it will give countenance to no such fast-and-loose dealing with institutions built up in this state with infinite pains, sacrifice and labor. Should the bill reach the governor, one refuses to believe that his pen would incur for him responsibility for such retrogression, nor do we do him the disrespect to believe that the chance to fire a foe and hire a friend here and there would weigh in his decision.

Miss Anna Hickisch, daughter of F. R. Hickisch, grocer at 328 Vine street, bid fair to become one of the great star opera singers of the world. Already at the age of 25 she has achieved phenomenal success. She is now in London and on June 26 she will, with Melba and other artists of equal fame, appear in concert before King Edward and the royal family.

THE LAUNDRY LIST

BY JESSIE DOUGLAS

"Never," said Kitty sternly to herself, "never shall I have anything more to do with a man!"

The train came along at this minute and she sprang up the high steps and found an empty seat in the day coach. She sat for a few minutes watching the snowy landscape swim past her and thinking with mortification and anger of the week-end she had just spent.

Helen Saunders had invited her purposely so that she should meet Will Farnsworth. She had heard the virtues of Will, his unexcelled qualities drummed into her ears, until she had almost begun to hate him. But Helen—the inveterate matchmaker—now that she was married, had somehow made her curious about him.

At the last moment he had telegraphed that he couldn't come. Which might have been forgiven except for the fact that when they were out snow-shoeing, Helen had seen a sleigh flash past and had cried, "I do believe that's Will! Of all the—"

He had never come near them and Kitty knew it was on her account. He was an old friend of the Saunders, which left no reason for doubt why he had been so careful to avoid them over this week-end.

"And yet I'm not so afraid, I don't see why he needs to be afraid," Kitty thought, taking out her vanity case and peering into the mirrored face with searching eyes.

Brown eyes. Brown hair that showed chestnut tendrils, a nose that was saucy and a mouth that may have been too wide for beauty, but was bewitching when it showed the dimples at its corners.

Kitty pulled up her veil, opened her bag and drew out a book. A love story.

She lost herself in its pages, lost herself so deeply that she scarcely noticed when the train stopped, was barely conscious when the conductor came down the aisle, and reluctantly opened with one hand her purse, while she continued to hold the book with the other. She held out her ticket and went on with her story.

Pretty soon it was taken from her and she cuddled back into her corner, until at Chapter VII she found her eyes were filling with tears—she couldn't go on any more now.

She lifted her head then and saw that some one was sitting in the seat beside her. A man, of course. Kitty turned her face to the window swallowing her tears as best she could, and hoping the stranger would not notice. If only things would happen the way they did in novels!

"I think this is yours," the stranger said at last.

Kitty turned quickly to look at him. He had nice gray eyes, slightly hollowed cheeks and an engaging smile that showed white, fine teeth. "Why, yes," Kitty said, looking down at her laundry list in the young man's hand. "It must have slipped out of my purse."

The young man said quite gravely, "You held it toward me such a long time that I thought I ought to take it."

"I don't understand!" Kitty said haughtily.

Then she felt quickly in her bag and found that her ticket was still there.

The young man was smiling frankly. "Perhaps you thought it was your ticket. You see, I had my pass, so the conductor thought you were my—"

"How perfectly awful!" Kitty ejaculated.

"Yes, I know it would be awful, but you can fix it up with the conductor by giving him your ticket at the next station and freeing his mind forever from any doubts."

Kitty folded her laundry list into a tiny oblong and put it carefully away. The young man watched the delightful contour of the cheek turned from him and saw it flush into rose.

"I say," he said suddenly, dropping that tone of amusement. "I know I haven't any right to say it, but I could see you were in trouble. Is there anything I could do to help you? I know this isn't any way to introduce myself." He felt around in his pocket and drew out a card that bore the name—

"William J. Farnsworth," General Passenger Agent.

Kitty looked at it for a moment. Then the demon of mischief leaped to her brown eyes.

"You mean you saw I was—crying?" she asked.

He nodded sympathetically. "I couldn't help seeing. I hope you won't think I'm the sort that picks up girls everywhere. Why, I run away from 'em! But I'd feel grateful if you would let me be of service."

"It's nice of you," Kitty answered, "but the only thing you could do would be to tell me that the heroine lives happily ever after!" she patted the red-covered book.

"Crying over a story?" he ejaculated. "But that's easy enough." He turned to the last page and began to read the final paragraph in a voice that vibrated pleasantly above the rattle of the train.

"She held out her hand to him with a little glad cry of surprise. Hugh's eyes met hers with a long look of understanding. 'You forgive me, Sonia?'"

He read the answer in her clear blue eyes, and as he gathered her close into his arms she knew it was for this she had been waiting.

"Thank you," Kitty said softly. Her face burned. Somehow the words that might have been sentimental or meaningless had, with his reading, sprung into life. She stole a look at her gray-eyed companion and thought with regret what good friends they might have been. Never that now.

"Get off the next stop," she said primly.

"I wish you'd tell me your name. I'd do anything—get people to in-

FROM THE BIG LEAGUE

Tips For Pitchers Written especially for the Boys and Girls Newspaper by Bob Sawley of the New York American League Club

To deceive the players of the other team is a part of the art of pitching. One way is to throw the various kinds of ball, such as the curve ball and the fast ball, with the same kind of an arm swing. The curve ball is made with but a simple twist of the wrist, and this twist can be made so rapidly, it can easily be concealed from the eyes of spectators.

Control of the ball is what good pitching is based upon. Practice brings control.

Don't Become "Stale" In practice, choose some spot on the catcher's uniform—his belt, the letters on his shirt—aim at that. Practice till you are able to throw exactly for that spot every time.

The pitcher who plays the game only once or twice a week should be sure to get in plenty of practice during the other days, or he will become "stale." There is no training for pitchers that beats actual pitching. Try to rattle you in the game, don't listen to them. If you do, it means trouble. Keep your mind on your work.

Take Plenty of Time Make your time. Don't rush through a game. Especially when you are in a pinch go slow and use good judgment. But always be ready to take care of the unexpected.

If the catcher signals for a ball that the pitcher believes should not be thrown, he should not go ahead and pitch what he wants to without first warning the catcher. "Bullheadedness" on the part of some pitchers has caused many a broken finger for catchers.

Yes—Slip On One and Try It "What kind of leather makes the best shoes, Eddie?"

"I don't know, sir, but I guess banana peels make the best slippers."

"The beams."

Parables of Safed the Sage

PARABLE OF THE KID FINGER

A LITTLE grandson pined his finger in the door, so that the Nail was Bruised, and came off. And there came a time when it was hanging at one end and loose at the other. And his mother called him upon the telephone, and said, "I desire to slip the Finger of a Glove upon it that it may be protected, but he feared that it will hurt him, and he said, 'Nay, but let Grandpa do it.'"

And I said, "Bring him hither. And I took him upon my knee, and said, 'Give me will clip a part of the old Nail away.'"

And he said, "Nay, for it will hurt. And I said, 'Let us watch and see how far the pieces of Nail do fly.'"

And we watched, and it did not hurt.

But it was not easy to slip the finger of the kid glove upon the finger of the hand, for the Nail still hung and was tender. And his mother slipped it on by little, while I sang unto him. And this is the song that I sang:

Oh, a little kid finger on the finger of the kid, Will protect the little finger and will keep the finger hid; It will heal the little finger just the best was ever did;

Oh, the little kid finger on the finger of the kid!

Now if it be objected that this is not Great Poetry, I answer that it falleth into the category of Occasional Verse, like Coronation Odes, and it is, as I judge, quite as good Poetry as Alfred Lord Tennyson wrote for the Jubilee of Queen Victoria, and somewhat better suited to the occasion that produced it. For the little lad sang what he meant about the Little Kid Finger on the Finger of the Kid, and before he knew it, the finger of the glove was on tight.

And if any one would know what Tune this Poetry was sung to it was the Classic melody of the Turkey in the Straw.

For that is Great Poetry which serveth poetically in a Great Need; and that is Great Music which in the sphere of Music functioneth greatly.

And if thou desirest to know my sentiments on the controversy concerning Art for Art's sake, thou mayest be able to infer it from these Few Remarks. For Music and Art and all else is Good in proportion as it is good for something. And I have very little use for Goodness which is good for nothing.

produce us properly, if it took weeks, if you only would!" he begged.

Kitty looked at him for a moment. Revenge is said to be sweet. But Kitty Tenant felt its taste bitter in her mouth as she answered, "I think we will say good-by here."

The young man struggled for a moment with something he wanted to say, and then the laughing light sprang into his eyes again.

"So I'm never to see you again?" he asked mockingly.

Kitty nodded.

"Good-by, then," he said, standing with his hat off and watching her disappear down the aisle.

Kitty could not resist looking back at him from the platform; he was watching eagerly, and she smiled—for the last time.

In the week that followed she found she could not drive him out of her mind. His gray eyes, his engaging smile and his deep masculine voice came back to her again and again when she thought she had forgotten him.

"It would be easy to meet him," Kitty thought, "and never shall I do it. He didn't choose to meet me in the first place—" She stood washing out her best silk stockings in her wash bowl and wishing that Mrs. Wiggins gave a little more heat to her borders.

"And I forgot my laundry!" Kitty said.

She hurried into her things, drew out the folded laundry list that brought back swift pictures of a ride in the train and ran around to the Dupont Laundry to stop and then give a wild leap that sent the blood rushing to her cheeks. For there before the counter was Will Farnsworth.

"She held out her hand to him with a little cry of surprise. Hugh's eyes met hers with a long look of understanding!" he quoted. "Do you know I've spent two hours and twenty minutes waiting for you in this laundry?" he asked, and then at the

SUMMER SCHOOL OF RELIGION TO OPEN ON JUNE THIRTEENTH

Important Institution to be Launched Under Local Federation of Churches

A "summer school of religion" is announced by the committee of the La Crosse Federation of Churches, of which Rev. E. C. Dixon is chairman. It will be conducted very much in the same manner as the one held in the city two years ago under the same auspices.

A competent corps of teachers has been engaged, especially with a view to their fitness for the particular grade assigned them; and the school will be conducted upon pedagogical lines in accordance with other schools. Courses in departmental music, church history and biblical interpretation will be offered; adapted to the intellect of the pupils. Special attention will be given to Bible subject matter, with a view to imparting accurate knowledge of this book.

The general plan to be followed is one outlined by Rev. Prof. R. H. Vaughan, state superintendent of religious education among Congregational churches, who will be present on the opening day. Sessions will be held in the First Methodist church, Eighth and King streets, each morning, except Saturday, beginning at 9 o'clock, and continuing two weeks. All of the down town churches of the federation excepting the First Baptist, are co-operating in this plan, and are furnishing the means whereby the teachers can receive a small remuneration for the service which they, so willingly, have proffered. Enrollment blanks have been placed in all the public schools of these churches. There are no registration fees, and no special effort will be made to influence the pupils to become members of the church. It is a non-sectarian effort along union lines and is open to all the children of the city whose parents approve their attendance.

KENYON CHARGES WASTE IN SHIPPING BOARD OPERATIONS

WASHINGTON. — Committee amendments to the deficiency bill granting appropriations of $75,000,000 to the shipping board were approved Friday by the senate after Senator Kenyon, republican, Iowa, and others had charged the board with gross extravagance, waste and inefficiency.

The senate in approving the appropriation, an increase of $50,000,000 over that granted by the house, added an amendment by Senator Leonard, republican, Wisconsin, directing the shipping board to sell all wooden ships by next October 1.

IMMIGRATION BILL IN EFFECT FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Immigration officials began Friday enforcement of the immigration bill restricting entry of aliens to three per cent of the nationals of their country in the United States at the time of the 1910 census. A rush of immigrants was expected during the next two months and officials were of the opinion that in the case of most countries the bars would have to be put up long before the end of the year. Only twenty per cent of the total quota of any given country can enter each month. The grand total is not expected to exceed 500,000.

ABSENCE OF REID CAUSES DELAY IN MRS. MILLER'S CASE

Withrow Objects to Harry Robinson Acting as the District Attorney

The case of Mrs. Grace Miller, charged with running down Mary Silha with an automobile in the Mormon Conlee road and falling to stop and give assistance, was called in county court Friday afternoon. Due to the absence of the district attorney, Lucien Held, the case was adjourned until June 10.

Miss Silha was in court with her attorney, Arthur Holmes. Harry Robinson was acting in the place of the district attorney. Frank E. Withrow appeared for Mrs. Miller.

"I object to this case being tried by Mr. Robinson," said Mr. Withrow. "I move the court to postpone the examination until the district attorney can be present."

The court and other lawyers were puzzled by this move. The law was looked up and it was found that a district attorney was empowered to appoint assistants, but that the appointments were to be approved by the county board. Mr. Withrow asked Mr. Robinson if his appointment by the district attorney had been approved by the county board. Mr. Robinson said he didn't know any thing about it; that Mr. Held had called him on the phone, told him he would be out of town and would look after the cases in county court for him.

The court upheld Mr. Withrow's objection. It was then suggested that the case be postponed until Monday.

"Oh, let's set it for a month from today," said Mr. Withrow. "That will give the district attorney plenty of time to be here."

The district attorney's office was called on the phone and it was said he was out of town and would not be back until Monday. The court then set the case for next Friday.

Alice Brady "The New York Idea"
The Three Keltons in "Outbursts of Music, Dance and Comedy"
Howard Nichols in "The Juggler"
Ethel Clayton in "The Price of Possession"

The scenes are laid in Australia and the London suburbs. The story, replete with dramatic situations, revolves around two nephews, one of whom steals a birthright and flees to Australia. The other nephew follows and kills him. His wife accepts the birthright, but after intense inward struggles and numerous dramatic incidents she gives it up.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG, CASINO
Clara Kimball Young, whose latest picture, "Hush," is at the Casino today, has the distinction of being the first star to form her own producing company. She was also a member of the first organized motion picture company, and the first motion picture actress to have her name in electric lights on Broadway, at the Criterion theater. Since that time she has been the star in a number of photodramas, most recent of which were: "Byes of Youth," "The Forbidden Woman" and "The Soul of Rafael."

ALICE BRADY—STRAND
The trouble with marriage is that most folks fall in love with themselves and later find themselves married to more human beings. And of course every human being has "a few little ways." And almost before the honeymoon has ended her little way of doing this is getting on his nerves, and his little way of doing that is driving her nearly crazy. And that is where the first quarrel, and after that more quarrels and misunderstandings. Now "The New York Idea" is to hustle off and get a divorce after about the third quarrel. Why not? Husbands and wives are easy to get. But again, if your first venture disappoints you, "The New York Idea" is a brilliant satire on modern society. With beautiful Alice Brady as the star and a fine cast, you will enjoy this superb Reelart picture which comes to the Strand today.

MAJESTIC
For the last show of the season the Majestic has two splendid vaudeville acts. The Three Keltons in "Outbursts of Music, Dance and Comedy" prove one of the best vaudeville acts that have appeared here for some time. Howard Nichols in the juggling line starts where other jugglers leave off. The photoplay part of the program is supplied by Zasu Pitts and Florence Vidor in a rustic romance that thrills with its melody of love and laughter. "Poor Relations," about honest, homely hearts vs. society's spurious shams. After tonight the Majestic closes for awhile to allow the decorators to re-decorate the interior of the theater.

RIVOLI
For the first time since 1917, Ethel Clayton produced a picture in New York, her latest vehicle being an adaptation of the novel, "The Price of Possession," by the English author, Winifred Boggs. The picture, which will be shown at the Rivoli theater next Sunday, is the first Miss Clayton has done since her return from Europe. The scenes are laid in Australia and the London suburbs. The story, replete with dramatic situations, revolves around two nephews, one of whom steals a birthright and flees to Australia. The other nephew follows and kills him. His wife accepts the birthright, but after intense inward struggles and numerous dramatic incidents she gives it up.

THERE'S NOTHING NEW IN DANCES OF TODAY DECLARES SCIENTIST

Shimmy, One-Step and Jazz Originated With Ancient Inhabitants of Peru

NEW YORK.—The shimmy, the one-step and the jazz music, are as old as the hills and the ancient melody-loving inhabitants of Peru were the first to produce them. And to make their claim secure for all time they inscribed the figures of the dance on their prehistoric pottery and metal so that when future archaeologists sought proof of their claim there would be no doubt about it.

Sure enough, their claim to fame as the originators of the frolics that make life worth living for a lot of light footed persons, has been found by Charles W. Mead, assistant curator of the department of anthropology in the American Museum of Natural History.

This discovery, incidentally, blasts the theory that jazz was first a product of the now extinct Barbary coast in San Francisco where adventurers since the days of 1849 whirled with the girls of the dance halls.

And that isn't all—They have dug up from the ruins of old Peru such instruments of jazz as the drum, the organ, the rattle, the pipe, the flute, the whistle, the trumpet and other devices of sundry character.

It also is recorded that the Incas, a particularly warlike Peruvian tribe, made their drums from the skins of their enemies and the music, it is declared, was even more terrible than the jazz of today.

The ancient popularity of the jazz and shimmy is attested by the abundance of dancing figures on most of the pottery which has been unearthed and is in possession of the American Museum of Natural History.

It is going to be a week of real pleasure and entertainment for outdoor amusement devotees, as this the largest and best show of its kind on the road today.

One of the big features with the Wortham show is the Bohemian twins, two mothers and their son, who recently came to this country and have attracted a world of attention since their arrival.

The Hippodrome attraction is the best and most complete one ring circus ever under canvas. They have a $40,000 herd of elephants, that present a sensational and interesting act. Fifty-one of the herd is 105 years of age, and is the only talking elephant in the world. She can say "Papa" just as clearly as any baby. There is also a group of trained lions, high school horses, manage horses, aerialists, clowns, ponies, mules and monkeys.

Jau Van Albert the Holland giant, who measures 9 feet 6 inches, is the tallest man in the world. He is well proportioned, well educated and very interesting in every way.

Among the big shows can be mentioned the Autodrome, Beach Models, Tautling's Tex-Mex wild west, Smile of 1921, War Exhibit, Palace of Wonders, domestic freak animal show, Monkey Hotel, Coney Island Illusion show, Noah's Ark, Over the Falls, a working submarine model, mother and baby, human roulette wheel and eight riding devices. This diversified list should satisfy the most particular and there is fun and amusement for all "kinds" from 6 to 60 years of age.

The shows will be here all week, with performances every afternoon and evening.

A Church of the Fourth Century

Excavations in the Garden of Gethsemane which were begun by the Franciscans in the spring of last year, have resulted in the discovery of a church of the 13th century. In digging the foundations for a new building on the spot the discovered traces of a much earlier church on a slightly different axis. They duly received permission to excavate this earlier building, which proved to be a church of about the fourth century, and one of the oldest monuments of Christianity in Palestine.

Cave Has Natural Heat

JAP WOMEN DEMAND RIGHT TO ORGANIZE POLITICAL SOCIETIES

In Arms Over Refusal of House of Peers to Permit Them to Take Part in Politics

TOKIO.—(Delayed)—Many Japanese women are in feminine rebellion over the refusal of the House of Peers to adopt the bill granting to the women of Nippon the right to attend political meetings and to form political associations. Their leaders are especially exercised over the speech of Baron Yoshino Fujimura who strongly opposed the measure.

The Baron is reported as having said that he was against the measure on the ground that women are not fit to participate in politics from the biological point of view and also from the point of view of social welfare. He added: "By allowing women to participate in political discussions the Japanese family system will be destroyed."

The Society of New Women which has been advocating the bill for three years, held an indignation meeting and appointed a committee to visit Baron Fujimura and demand an explanation of his remarks. Also, it was voted to continue the agitation for emancipation.

Several pedestrians in Longmont were drowned in the main streets of the town when more than two feet of water filled the street after the two big irrigation ditches had been broken.

Tracks Washed Out

More than a dozen washouts occurred on the Denver and Intermountain railroad between Denver and Boulder and on the Colorado and Southern line into Wyoming. Service on both roads was suspended. Train service over the Denver and Rio Grande and Santa Fe lines between Denver and Pueblo was annulled this morning.

H. C. Hayden, Associated Press operator at Pueblo, turned reporter when the Associated Press leased wire failed, and filed the first story from the scene of the Pueblo disaster to the Denver bureau of the Associated Press early Saturday.

Reports said the water reached its high mark at Pueblo at 10 o'clock Friday night when there was nine feet six inches in the Union depot. All lights and telephones were out of service. There is no wire service out of Pueblo.

At 4 a. m. the water in the Pueblo depot stood at three feet six inches a drop of six feet.

Parts of Pueblo are badly piled up with driftwood and derailed railroad equipment.

Downtown Pueblo was covered with two feet of mud, reports said.

Lightning Starts Fires

PUEBLO, Col.—By The Associated Press.—National guardsmen patrolled Pueblo early Saturday, permitting no one to enter the section of the city flooded by waters from the Arkansas river while several fires, started by lightning are burning in several parts of the city.

Telegraph and telephone communication was lost Friday night when the flood filled many of the business houses on depth of six feet.

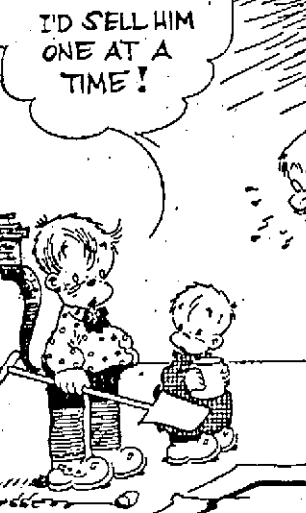

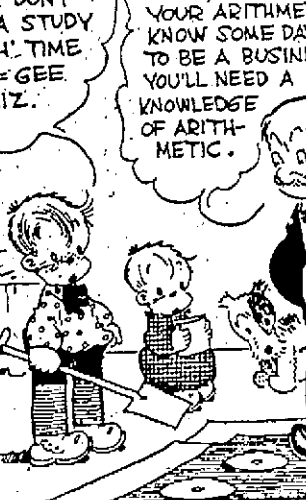

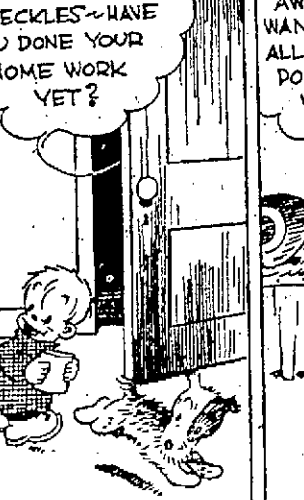

Eighteen families were reported rescued from the lowlands and one woman reported her husband had been swept from her sight in the flood waters while attempting to escape.

Several fires broke out early in the evening and a big fire broke out about midnight in the central part of the city. No attempt at fighting the flames could be made but rainfall

Anything Else?

A New York business man, after suffering a series of annoying interruptions caused by the entrance in quick succession of porter, towel-supply man and window-cleaner, turned for relief to the telephone.

"Gimme Rector 56771," he bawled.

"He waited patiently for five minutes, then hung up the receiver in disgust. Immediately the bell rang.

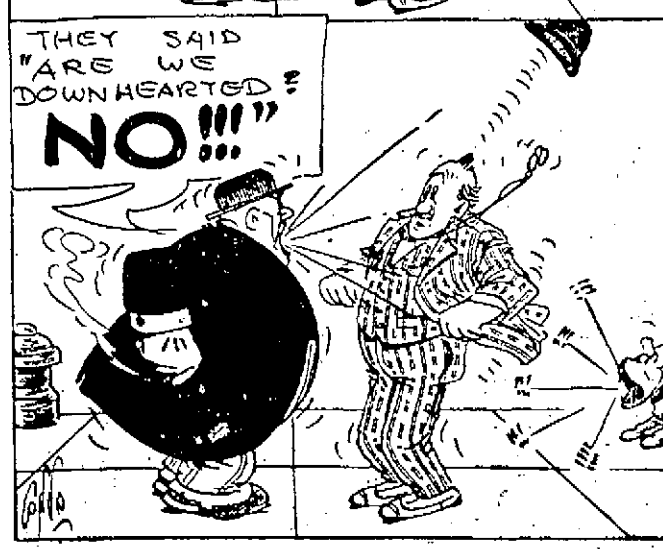

"Are you finished?" the operator asked sweetly.

The subscriber growled. "What's matter," he growled, want to sweep off the wire?" — Everybody's.

Illinois-Michigan Game May Decide Big 10 Title

URBANA.—University of Illinois baseball nine Friday went through its last practice of the season and Saturday will meet Michigan in a game which may decide the western conference championship. Today Illinois stands at the head of the conference percentage table with ten victories and no defeats. Michigan is second with nine games won and one lost. The Illini being the only team to defeat the Wolverines. Victory for Illinois Saturday will clinch the title.

Michigan, by winning Saturday, would throw the race into a tie, with each team having a mark of ten games won and one lost. Michigan plays Wisconsin next Monday, and by winning this game would capture the pennant by half a game, unless Illinois arranged to play off a postponed game with Purdue and won it.

Dixon, Michigan's mainstay on the slab this season, following the barring of "Slacker" Parks for professionalism, is expected to hurl for the Wolverines, while either Jackson or Barnes, who has a no-hit game to his credit this season, will pitch for Illinois.

Plans have been made to handle the biggest crowd of the season at the university athletic field, and the intense excitement on the campus Friday night has been rivaled only on the night before a championship football game.

If Illinois defeats Michigan Saturday it will finish the season without a defeat and have a clear title to first place. Michigan has lost one of ten games but by defeating both Illinois and Wisconsin would win the championship by half a game.

THERE'S lots of jobs I wouldn't care for;
A trainer in a lion's den
Is not a task I'd like; and therefore
I'll leave that stunt to other men;
I wouldn't care to tame a rattler,
Or stare a tiger in the lamp—
Nor be the poor, misguided battler
Who's sparring partner for a champ!

I'VE had a football outfit jump me,
I've ridden on a bucking bronch,
And had the plunging critter bump me,
With awful force upon my conk;
I've faced a lodge initiation
And had my brow with fear grow damp,
—But I don't want the situation
Of sparring partner for a champ!

YOU don't get any cheers or glory
For all the blows that cut and sting,
Each day is just the same old story
Of getting stung around the ring;
You stand for every folt and wallop,
For blows that batter, bruise and cramp;
Oh gee, I'd hate to be the lollipop
Who's sparring partner for a champ!

NORMAL TRACK SQUAD AT MADISON TO COMPETE IN TRACK AND FIELD EVENTS

Coach Keeler and nine men of the normal school track team left Friday for Madison, where they will compete in the annual inter-normal track and field meet on Saturday afternoon. Those who made the trip are Regot, Royal, Knutson, Hanson, Dahlgren, Sanford, Spaulding, Dean and Field. Though there has been only one real competitive workout this year, the men have been doing good work, and should do well at Madison.

In the inter-class track and field meet held last Tuesday night at the normal field, Regot made 5 ft. 10 in. in the high jump on his first attempt and then quit trying. He also made 20 ft. 11 in. in the broad jump both of which marks are considerably better than the normal school conference records. Dahlgren heaved the discus 121 feet and Hanson threw the javelin over 143 feet.

"Shorty" Field is expected to do great things in the mile and two mile runs. Last Tuesday, afternoon he made the mile in 4:50 2-5 without anyone running against him.

Nine Schools Compete MADISON, Wis.—Nine state normal schools are entered in their sixth annual track meet held at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon to decide the championship of Wisconsin. There will be a close contest for first place between Oshkosh, Stevens Point and the Milwaukee Normals, according to a survey of their dual meet records up to the present time.

Stevens Point, champions of 1920 defeated Oshkosh last Saturday by a narrow margin, but with the added competition of other schools to cut off points in many events, it is believed that the contests between these two schools will be close. The normal with twenty entries lines up with the leading contenders.

Captain McAndrews of the Oshkosh team is counted on as the star of the meet in taking points from dash events and the broad jump. Coach Downer of the Milwaukee squad, has Captain Van Ellis as his right hand man in the eight events and the broad jump.

Other schools have point winners which they are counting on to run up scores which will place them near the top of the meet.

MAHER DEAD WASHINGTON, D. C.—James D. Maher, clerk of the United States supreme court since 1914, died Friday. He had been connected with the court continuously since 1896 when he was taken on at the age of 11 as a page.

HAMILTON IS STAR IN PRELIMINARIES OF BIG 10 GAMES

University of Missouri's All-around Athlete Qualifies in Number of Events

CHICAGO, Ill.—Featured by the stellar work of Brutus Hamilton, University of Missouri's all-around athlete, who qualified in five events, preliminaries in all fields events, and quarter and half mile runs of the twenty-first annual track and field games of the western conference to be held on Stag field Friday, were decided yesterday on the Midway.

Hamilton, national pentathlon and decathlon champion, qualified for today's finals in the pole vault, running, broad jump, discus, shot and javelin. The Missourian did not extend himself and was content to make marks which placed him in the finals rounds.

Seven Survive in High Jump Seven athletes qualified for the finals in the high jump by clearing the bar at six feet. In the javelin throw, H. B. Hoffman of Michigan, who holds the conference record at 127 feet, 10 inches, made a record breaking throw of 178 feet, 4 inches, while several other athletes exceeded the record. Unless Hoffman's new mark is bettered today, it will stand as a record.

Northwestern was the only entrant which seriously upset the dope, in the discus throw. Blackwood hurled the saucer 145 feet 1-2 inch, which is a better throw than any other contestant has made this year, and it is unlikely it will be beaten today. Following this performance Szold was the third qualifying heat of the quarter mile.

Butler Best in Quarter Mile Capt. Butler of Michigan turned the best quarter mile of any of the heat winners. He won the first race, in :51 against a strong north wind. Capt. Nash of Wisconsin had the best time in the qualifying heats of the half mile. He took his race in 2:00 2-5. The first event today will start at 2 o'clock. The price of admission will be one dollar and the gates at Stag field will open at noon.
